

TUBE WORKS EMPTY
AND THE MOB RULESM'KEESPORT, PA. STRIKERS
CARRY THEIR POINT.

National Tube Works Invaded and Workmen Driven off—Thirty Five Men Hurt—Militia Again Ordered Out in Illinois—National Fight Given Up—Railroads Hard up For Fuel

M'KEESPORT, Pa., June 6.—No attempt was made today to start the tube works. Strikers swarmed around the works threatening violence if any move was made. Last night a mob of six hundred men and boys broke into the mills of the National Tube Works company, drove twenty-five men out, turned over and destroyed all the dining-tables, cots, etc., that had been provided for them and are now in possession of the big plant. Thirty-five men were injured, two fatally. A report has reached the strikers that two boatloads of new men and Pinkertons are on their way up the river and will be landed inside the plant to-night. In anticipation of their coming the strikers are scattered along the river. They are armed with guns, rifles and revolvers and will fight to death. A cannon has been seized and loaded. It is on the river bank and will be turned on any boat that may try to land during the night.

Seventy-five deputies were unloaded at Braddock shortly before midnight. They are expected to march to this place before morning. The strikers will give them a warm reception.

Last summer the tube company forced a reduction of wages on its 6,000 employees and promised when times grew better the 15 per cent would be restored. May 14 100 boys decided to ask for the restoration. They were refused and the boys struck at noon. The men quit with the boys. The officials gave the strikers until Monday to decide whether to go back without the increase. The strikers held a big meeting and voted to stay out. When the officials heard the result they announced the mill would start yesterday morning.

The plant resumed in two departments and twenty-five men went to work. The news quickly spread and by noon a mob of nearly 10,000 had assembled about the gates, awaiting the appearance of the workmen. Most of the men remained inside, but a few attempted to go to their homes and were caught by the mob and terribly beaten. They were finally rescued, however, by the police and taken back into the inclosure. The mob then dispersed in part, but toward evening reassembled, and by 6 o'clock probably 5,000 men were massed in front of the entrance on Fourth avenue, and it was said fully three fourths of the number were foreigners.

At the mills the mob surged around the entrances until 7 o'clock, when a rush was made and they broke into the yards. The men inside were panic stricken, and it was the rule of every man for himself. The mob swarmed into the inclosure, looking for the hated non-unionists. They ranged over the ground and finally routed out ten hidden workmen. With no compunction, about ten men armed with clubs attacking one defenseless man, the mob set upon these men in swarms and beat them shockingly. In the crush to get at the prostrate men one fellow was badly stabbed. It was the Homestead fight over again with variations.

STRIKERS BURN COAL.

Indiana Miners Outwit the Militia and Commit Acts of Outlawry.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 6.—Early yesterday morning the militia in the Sullivan county mining district learned they had been outwitted and that five cars of coal had been stolen from them by strategy. The captured coal was set on fire on a branch road to the Alum Cave coal mine. The militia spent the day in ravines and arrested perhaps a dozen men, some of whom were strikers and some of whom were not. The miners laughed at the militia. The five cars of coal were burned by the time the troops arrived. There were no strikers in sight for the militia to arrest. Then the soldiers formed a circle to scour the country. They brought in a few men, but none were the ones they hoped for. Every one expects more trouble with the traffic of the Evansville & Terre Haute road. The miners are out of harmony with the train crews.

SULLIVAN, Ind., June 6.—The militia is stationed at Farmersburg. A bridge had been burned by the miners during the night and it took three hours to replace it. The militia arrived in time to see the five carloads of coal and several box cars burnt by the strikers. Four of the strikers are in jail. There are thirteen companies patrolling the railroad between Shelby and Farmersburg and they have a gatling gun. The air is full of rumors as to the purpose of the miners forcibly to release their friends from jail.

MUNCIE, Ind., June 6.—The Muncie Feacibles, state militia, have received orders to make ready for a call to service.

TROOPS OUT IN ILLINOIS.

Three Companies to Preserve the Peace at Cartersville.

MARION, Ill., June 6.—The strikers at Cartersville are in control of the mines and switches. Three companies of state troops will go to Cartersville to aid in preserving peace. The miners have full and undisputed control of the situation, but the state militia is expected to restore order at once. The captain of company M in this city is now under orders to be ready to move at once. Nothing less than the troops will quell the disturbance. Quite a number of the leaders will be arrested as soon as sufficient force is mustered to enforce the law.

GIVE UP THE FIGHT.

Miners Abandon the Contest as a National Effort.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 6.—The miners' strike as a national affair is over. This is the practical result of the meeting of the executive board and district presidents of the United Mine Workers, which concluded its deliberations here at 10 o'clock last night.

After spending the entire day in receiving reports from all over the country, made by representatives of the several states, which indicated that the miners were willing to continue the strike, the officials to whom was intrusted the conduct of the fight, with full power to act, practically abandoned the contest.

There is a feeling among the miners that while they will be unable to get the 70 and 79 scale a compromise can be effected by the districts for a rate of 60 in Ohio and 69 in Pennsylvania.

It is probable that there will be no attempt at a general resumption of work until after the district meetings Saturday.

Negroes Work in Pennsylvania.

RIDGEWAY, Pa., June 6.—Hall, Kane & Co. had 170 negroes at work yesterday at their Shawmut and Noble mines. Sixty-three strikers are in jail here.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., June 6.—Local miners refused yesterday to allow any coal to leave the tipples for domestic consumption. It is likely all the manufacturing in the Beaver valley will have to shut down this week for want of coal, and the situation is alarming.

Heavy Sales of Arms in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Wholesale dealers in firearms and ammunition in Chicago have made large shipments of both lately to state authorities and mine owners where the striking miners have caused the most trouble. The largest shipments have gone to western states, though large orders have been filled for Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Tennessee. The mine owners and many retail dealers have also been heavy buyers.

Workers Take Refuge in the Pits.

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, June 6.—Early yesterday morning there was an outbreak of 200 men and thirty women against the working miners, but no harm followed. The workers went into the mine and staid there. Preparations have been made for this morning that will insure peace. The Jasper county miners are marching down from Otley and a warm time may be had.

More Trouble at Cannellburg, Ind.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 6.—A crowd of about fifty miners has taken charge of a coal train at Cannellburg and on each attempt of the trainmen to move it has threatened violence. Deputy Sheriff Rayhill was taken to Cannellburg by a yard engine at 10:30 and will order the troops there to disperse the miners, even if bloodshed is necessary. The troops can not act without orders from the sheriff or deputy.

Shots Exchanged.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., June 6.—A crowd of 1,000 strikers camped near Painter's works last night and at daybreak the deputies fired upon them for the purpose of frightening them off. The fire was returned and one man was slightly wounded. The men, however, succeeded in keeping the new men away.

Michigan Miners Go Out.

SEBWAING, Mich., June 6.—All the miners employed by the Saginaw Bay Coal company walked out yesterday, demanding $1 a ton. They are now getting 85 cents. Seventy miners are employed at Sebwaing.

Maryland Militia Ordered Out.

BALTIMORE, June 6.—In anticipation of trouble in the mining region of western Maryland the governor has ordered the Fifth regiment to immediately proceed to Cumberland.

Files a Claim for $15,000,000.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Attorney-General Olney has filed against the estate of the late Senator Stanford a claim in behalf of the United States for the sum of $15,000,000, that being the proportionate share of the debt of the Central Pacific railroad that the estate owes the government under the theory that the personal assets of the individual members of the original Central Pacific syndicate are liable for the debt of that corporation to the United States.

Will Indorse a Populist.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 6.—Capt. Allen, state tax commissioner and leader of the Ninth district democracy, says that the democrats would indorse Burkhardt, the populist, nominee

BATTLE NOW RAGING
AT BULL HILL MINE.HUNDREDS OF ARMED MEN ARE ENGAGED.

Heavy Firing Heard at Divide But all the Telegraph Wires Are Down and No News Can be Secured—Skirmishers Bear the Brunt s Yet.

DIVIDE, Colo., June 6.—The army of deputies left this morning for a battle with the strikers. Heavy firing has been heard since they left. This is thought to have been between the skirmishers. A heavy battle is expected when the forces reach Bull Hill. Three thousand deputies and two hundred cavalry men are in line. All the telegraph wires have been cut, and the correspondents locked up.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 6.—Alexander McIntosh, state organizer for the Miners' union, read the arbitration agreement to the assembled miners and immediately all the men on Bull hill laid down their arms, the pickets were called in and the fortification abandoned. At night a telegram was received saying Sheriff Bowers would move the deputies toward Bull hill. Immediately couriers were sent in every direction and in a short time all the strikers were again under arms. A body of four companies immediately began the march in a heavy snow-storm to Midland to meet the deputies. A bloody conflict is expected.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 6.—Many of the Cripple Creek mine owners are not disposed to abide by the terms of the agreement made at Denver. The excitement here is greater than at any time since the beginning of the trouble. Another train of deputies was sent to Divide yesterday with a gatling gun which was bought at Chicago.

RAILROADS HARD UP FOR FUEL.

Wabash, Lake Erie & Western, Lake Shore Abandon Trains.

FAIRBURY, Ill., June 6.—A coal famine in this section is now at its height. The Wabash railroad is running only those trains which it is bound to run. The list of employees has been reduced in all branches.

LIMA, Ohio, June 6.—Freight traffic on the Lake Erie & Western road will have to be suspended unless a supply of coal is received. The oil companies here are shipping large quantities of Lima crude for fuel. Many factories are using it in place of coal.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., June 6.—The coal supply here is almost exhausted. The water works fires are now being fed with wood. Suspension of the street car service is threatened on account of lack of fuel. Local steamboats are laid up for want of coal and many manufacturing industries are preparing to burn wood. The miners here held a meeting and decided to fight it out to the end on the McBride platform.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 6.—The Ohio Central railroad discontinued its freight service yesterday from lack of fuel, and within three days will have to stop passenger traffic if no coal can be had.

DENVER, Colo., June 6.—Unless the coal miners' troubles are speedily settled this city will experience a coal famine.

READING, Pa., June 6.—All departments of the Reading Iron company, with the exception of one pipe furnace of the sheet mill, have shut down, owing to the scarcity of soft coal.

CITY HALL SET ON FIRE.

Miners Made Desperate by Hunger and Prospects of Defeat.

SPRING VALLEY, Ill., June 6.—The miners of Ladd are furious over the report that the White Breast Coal company of that place is going to start its mines with an armed force of men. If it does there will be trouble, as there are some desperate as well as destitute men out there. Monday night an attempt was made to burn the city hall. The flames, however, were extinguished before much damage was done. The town is in a state of unrest and unless a settlement is soon reached it is feared further depredations will be committed.

STREATOR, Ill., June 6.—Deputies are guarding the bridges and tracks of the Santa Fe railroad which have been threatened by incendiaries. A mass-meeting of miners was held here yesterday for the purpose of deciding whether or not miners should be allowed to mine coal to supply the water works. Although the executive committee recommended that such permission should be granted the proposition was voted down by a large majority.

STRIKERS MASTERS AT MASSILLON.

Coal Trains on the Loraine Road Are Tied Up—Supplies Running Short.

MASSILLON, Ohio, June 6.—An armed peace was maintained yesterday on the southern end of the Cleveland, Loraine & Wheeling railroad. General Manager Woodford has made no attempt to move the loaded coal trains and the strikers maintained a guard around the 200 cars.

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio, June 6.—The mines at Sample's Landing started yesterday with a full force to supply steam boats, as the supply of coal here is entirely exhausted. The miners are being paid 75 cents a ton. All the other mines in the county are closed.

PREMIER'S HORSE
WINS THE DERBY.LORD ROSEBERRY'S "LADAS"
LANDS THE $25,000.

Matchbox Is Second and Reindeer Third—Three Prophecies Made By the Prime Minister in His College Days Have Been Fulfilled—Winner Is of Royal Blood.

LONDON, June 6.—Premier Roseberry's colt Ladas won the great Derby today; Matchbox second; Reindeer a close third. More of a crowd than ever before saw the world's greatest race watched Ladas come across the line winner of the 5000 sovereigns. Ladas is a direct descendant of Whalebone, who won the Derby for another prime minister, the duke of Grafton, eighty-four years ago.

An interesting feature in connection with the race was the fact that the third part of the prophecy regarding himself made by Lord Rosebery in his college days was fulfilled. Many years ago he said he would marry the richest heiress of her time, that he would become prime minister, and that one of his horses would win the Derby. All three of these predictions have now been fulfilled.

VOTE ON TAX REPEAL.

Mr. Cox, in the House, Offers His Unconditional Amendment.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—When the house met yesterday two unsuccessful attempts were made to secure consideration of private bills. Mr. Catchings, from the committee on rules, then brought in a resolution providing that the previous question shall be considered ordered at 5 o'clock yesterday on the Brawley bill, the rest of the day to be devoted to debate under the five-minute rule.

Mr. Cox then offered his amendment providing for the total unconditional repeal of the tax on state banks.

The bill was debated by Messrs. Boatner of Louisiana, Pendleton of Texas, Enloe of Tennessee, Livingston of Georgia, Talbot of South Carolina, Cooper of Florida and other democrats in favor of the bill, and by Messrs. Bowers of California, Cannon of Illinois, Grow, Woomer and Adams of Pennsylvania; Lacy of Iowa, Quigg and Ray of New York, republicans, and others in opposition to it.

Mr. Bryan (dem., Neb.) said he would propose a bill which would provide a larger circulation of paper money under the exclusive control of the federal government. At 5:35 p. m. without further action on the bill the house adjourned.

The advocates of state banks concede defeat on the vote to be taken in the house on repealing the tax on state bank currency. At the outset of the debate the state bank men counted on 140 votes. Their ranks are thinned by pairs and absence, however, and they now admit that the majority against the state banks will be very large.

Warship to Go to Samoa.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A United States war vessel will be dispatched to Samoa within a few weeks. Recent dispatches from the islands indicate that the situation is very critical, with an armed force of natives numerically stronger than the king's army, threatening to overturn the government.

Important to Old Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Representative Houk of Tennessee has introduced a bill to reimburse the soldiers of the rebellion or their heirs for the average annual difference between gold and the value of the paper currency in which they were paid.

Marines Ready for Action.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The navy department has been advised by the commander of the Bennington, now in Salvadoran waters, that a landing force is in readiness on board the ship to go ashore if American interests demand such action.

Indorses the Jenkins Report.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The judiciary committee of the house has voted to indorse the report of the subcommittee which investigated Judge Jenkins' anti-strike injunctions.

Banks at St. Joseph Withstand the Run.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 6.—The run which was started on the First National and Central Savings banks Monday had no effect on business yesterday. Both banks have plenty of money and no further trouble will follow. The failure of Steele & Walker has carried with it the Midland Coffee company, and will probably cause the suspension of several retail stores in Kansas and Nebraska which the firm was carrying.

Five Die of Poisoning.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 6.—Five boys, whose ages ranged from 5 to 12 years, inmates of the Catholic Sisters' of Mercy home in this village, have died from poisoning, the result of eating herbs picked on the playground of the institution yesterday. Seven more boys are critically ill from the same cause.

Fifteen Frame Buildings Burned.

PLEASANTVILLE, Iowa, June 6.—Fifteen frame buildings, comprising three blocks of the largest business houses in the town, burned yesterday morning. The loss was $75,000; insurance, $30,000. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

NEBRASKA TOWNS GALE-SWEPT.

Greatest Damage at Calloway—Houses and Churches Wrecked.

CALLOWAY, Neb., June 6.—A gale raged here Monday night and when it was over the ground was literally covered with boards and debris from wrecked buildings, most of the business blocks and residences escaping serious injury. The Episcopal church was blown off its foundation and badly twisted. The Methodist church was in the same condition; the school house, a fine two-story brick building, was a total wreck. The damage will reach many thousands of dollars.

SUPERIOR, Neb., June 6.—A wind storm swept over this city Monday night. Several buildings were moved on their foundations and a number unroofed. In the country much damage was done. In the railroad yards many cars were blown over. Electric and gaslight service was shut off, and many small robberies occurred owing to the darkness.

OHIO REPUBLICANS.

Convention Begins Its Duties at Columbus Yesterday.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 6.—The feature of the preliminary session of the republican state convention was the renascence of ex-Secretary Foster, who for the first time in several years appeared at a state gathering. The ex-secretary is a member of the committee on resolutions, and it is more than hinted that his position at this time means that ex-President Harrison does not intend to leave Ohio alone to the devices of Gov. McKinley in the coming Presidential battle.

The brief session in the afternoon was but preliminary to the real business to be transacted to-day, when a short ticket is to be nominated. There is no opposition except on supreme judgeship, and the indications are that the convention will be brief and devoid of any sensationalism.

The appointment of the usual committees was made and an adjournment followed until this morning at 10 a. m. It is the general opinion that the convention will take a strong stand in favor of bimetalism, but not commit itself to the doctrine of free coinage.

PEOPLE TAKE TO THE HILL.

Reservoir Dams Threaten to Go Over—Lyons, Colo., in Danger.

LYONS, Colo., June 6.—A report was circulated yesterday that the Beaver Park reservoir in the South St. Vrain had broken. A scene of great confusion ensued. Every family on the south side of the river, with one or two exceptions, hastily moved to the all south of town and that part of the town is now deserted in anticipation of the flood. Several houses have been swept away, and if the reservoir breaks great damage will be done. The railroad and wagon roads are washed away, and unless the water goes down soon the food supply will be short.

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo., June 5.—Owing to a warm rain and the rapid melting of snow the water is higher in Chicago and Clear creeks than was ever known.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6.—The river rose three inches last night. The weather bureau predicts it will continue to rise. The damage along the river front is almost beyond comprehension. The situation in the north end of the city, where the homes of many poor people are submerged, grows more serious every hour.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 6.—The Fraser river is still rising. The government wharf at Westham Island has collapsed. The water came over the dike of the British Columbia Diking company at Pitt Meadows and flooded 200 acres which cost over $50,000 to reclaim.

Women End Club House's Career.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 6.—A number of young men at Cambridge, Minn., some time ago established a club house, as there was no saloon in the place. Yesterday sixty of the most prominent women in the town battered down the door of the club house, emptied out the beer in the cellar and ended by tipping the building over.

Gov. Cleaves Renominated.

LEWISTON, Me., June 6.—The republican state convention was held in this city yesterday, and Henry B. Cleaves was renominated for governor. The resolutions favor international bimetalism, the restriction of immigration and advocate a high protective tariff.

WATSON ELECTED BY ODD FELLOWSWISCONSIN GRAND LODGE HAS ADJOURNED.

Fond du Lac Candidate Won the Leading Place Although There Was More Rivalry Than Usual—Madison Was Selected as the Next Place of Meeting.

GREEN BAY, June 6.—J. W. Watson of Fond du Lac, was elected grand master of the Wisconsin Odd Fellows before the grand lodge closed this afternoon. There was considerable rivalry but the Fond du Lac man had a pronounced lead. Madison was chosen as the place of the next meeting.

There was a big time last night. A banquet was tendered to the visiting delegates, speeches being made by Mayor Elmore and other public men.

SUGAR SCHEDULE A LAW JUNE 1.

Senate Decides in Favor of Extension to The Trust.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The senate yesterday, by a vote of 38 to 31, decided that the sugar schedule shall take effect Jan. 1, 1895.

On the first vote, which was on Jones' amendment fixing the date when the sugar schedule should go into effect and the sugar bounty be terminated on Jan. 1, 1895, Brice voted yea, but after the vote was announced and it was seen that there was ample majority without him, he recalled that he was paired with the absent Senator Wolcott and withdrew his vote. The senators who did not vote were either paired or absent, except Hill, he simply didn't vote. Some one on the floor shouted "yea" when Hill's name was called, whereas the New Yorker, who was reading, raised his head and looked inquiringly around. But the joker was not discovered.

The second vote was on Manderson's amendment to continue the sugar bounty as provided in the McKinley act. The amendment was defeated by 30 yeas to 42 nays. Senator Manderson then offered numerous amendments, from a graduated bounty to bounty on special sugars. There was some debate. The schedule will pass. Of course, all that was done yesterday will have to be done over again when the committee of the whole rises and the bill is voted on by the senate. But it is not thought any change will ever come over the senators.

The senate committee which is investigating the alleged operations of the sugar trust in efforts to influence tariff legislation resumed its sittings yesterday, and Walter Gaston, the wire manufacturer of Wilkesbarre, was examined as to the truth of the story that while occupying a room at the Arlington hotel, he had overheard a conversation between members of the sugar trust and United States senators with regard to the necessity of protecting sugar in the tariff bill. Mr. Gaston appeared to appreciate the delicacy of his position and stated that he overheard a conversation on the subject of sugar legislation. The occurrence had been purely accidental and unavoidable on his part. He had come to Washington in March in the interest of the tariff on wire, and stopping at the Arlington hotel was assigned to room 33. The 6th day of that month he spent at the capitol, and having put in a very busy day, had retired early, about 8 o'clock, after reaching his room at the hotel, and had almost immediately fallen asleep. About 10 o'clock he was aroused by talking in the next room, which seemed to be of an animate character and was participated in by several persons, the voices of some of whom he recognized. He soon discovered that they were discussing the sugar schedule and that some of the participants were particularly anxious that a duty on refined sugar should be provided for. He said also that he had heard the names of certain senators mentioned in the conversation.

Mr. Gaston was pressed very hard by the committee. He did not refuse to answer any question, but to a great many queries replied simply that he did not know. He said he was in the room at the Arlington on the date named and supposed that there were senators in conversation with Mr. Terrell, who occupied the room, because of the knowledge they displayed of what had taken place in the subcommittee of finance that day. He would not say that he had recognized any of the voices. He believed that the bill was then to be defeated because of his previous knowledge of the power of the sugar interests. He said he had never told any one that he recognized the voices of any senators in the room occupied by Terrell. He did not give the name of the congressman to whom he gave the story and who in turn told it to Mr. Schriver. He was given further time to consider whether he would disclose the congressman's name.

Ratifies the Russian Treaty.

VIRNA, June 6.—The upper house of the reichsrath has adopted the commercial convention with Russia.

CONCORDIA'S HOME A HANDSOME ONE.

DEDICATION LAST NIGHT A NOTABLE AFFAIR.

Mayor Thoroughgood Speaks a Word For the Foreigner Who Comes Here Intending to be an American Citizen—Wants Immigration Lines Drawn Closer in the Future.

Concordia now has a home to be proud of. She dedicated last night with music, song and story. Six hundred people helped, and flowers, banners and bunting did their part toward making the scene an attractive one. A potpourri of German airs by Smith's orchestra of twelve pieces led by D. D. Bennett opened the programme. There was a song by the Concordia society and addresses of welcome in English and German by President Carl Pabst. Musical numbers that were enthusiastically received were Sausa's "Liberty Bell" march by the Orpheus Mandolin club; Prof. W. Theil's cornet solo, "Lizzie Polka," with orchestral accompaniment; "Golden Dawa," a piano solo by Miss Irmgard Pfennig, and a duet, "Go Where The Mists Are Sleeping," by Mrs. F. H. Kemp and Julia Kueff.

Mayor Thoroughgood's address was breezy and to the point. He sketched the organization of the Concordia society and said:

"I do not think there is a man in Janesville (not a German) who has any better knowledge of the German citizen than myself. Living amongst you and taking part as a musician in very many of your outdoor and indoor festivities, my mind reverts back a number of years when a member of the Bower City band. This Concordia society accompanied by the band attended several annual Sangerfests. These German festivities are among the pleasantest recollections today of the old members of the Bower City band and in which I feel a source of pleasure of having been an active member for a period of fourteen years. One instance I will relate. On the occasion of one of these Sangerfests, I do not now recollect whether in Watertown or Milwaukee, our esteemed citizen, John Bauman, now passed away, was president of the Concordia society at that time. A man whom all men had a kindly word for, a man of principal, a man of charitable impulses, and a true German in every characteristic that applies to manhood. His capabilities as a spokesman were very meagre as many of you know, nor did he make any pretension as such. However, it was among other acts of courtesy that the society and band should serenade the mayor. They both were cordially invited into the mayor's house and it was natural the president of the society should say something. If I remember rightly, his speech was somewhat as follows: 'Mr. Mayor: This is the Bower City band'; (after a pause) 'Mr. Mayor: This is the Janesville Bower City band'; (another pause) when, resuming his speech again he said: 'Mr. Thoroughgood, give us some music.' While our departed friend was among the most enthusiastic members of the German society, he also was a great admirer of the Bower City band, and was anxious the mayor should hear his band, consequently no other subject presented itself. I want to say a few words about the Bower City band before I close, because many of the Concordia Society were their especial friends, and because some of the members of the society were active members of the band. I will tell you right here, and my statement will be backed up by every member of what I will term the old Bower City Band—that to meet in our band room for practice was amongst our greatest pleasures. For many years this was kept up. We as members of the band took pride in it; we were pleased to be recognized as members, and the citizens of Janesville were proud of their band. It is strange this is not the case now. There is good material in our young men, but it takes time and study and a harmonious feeling among the members of any musical organization to accomplish good results. This I am afraid does not exist. Some of these same words will apply well to the Concordia Society. The old Bower City band for many years held nearly the first place in the state, and many of the older members of the Concordia Society have had the opinions of eminent German leaders to that effect. I must now tell you a little of Bower City band history. I want my hearers to understand the members were a fairly moral and temperate lot of men—do not know of any better. However there was a movement among them to sign a pledge not to drink beer or other intoxicants, in fact to take a temperance pledge. This we all did except my friend Herman Buchholz, who I believe was the only one who did not. These signatures are in existence today and the pledges religiously kept in several instances. I do not know how long I kept mine, but am afraid not very long. Why, one of my German friends undertook at the commencement of the new year to keep a diary of expenses for the coming year. After a few days he examined this ledger and found so many five cents for beer he closed his book and resumed operations on the old plan. According to statement handed me by a member of the Concordia society, the first movement of the Germans of this city to organize any society was that of a school on the twenty-second day of February, 1867, at which time the first ball was given to assist in raising funds. On the 27th of March, 1868, the Concordia Singing Society was inaugurated with a charter membership of twelve with Citizen Fritz the first president. This society has had a continuance up to date and at present has a membership of over eighty. As is to be expected some that were members have passed away; others are still members of the society, the older ones stepping out from the active duties pertaining to its management, leaving the younger ones to take their places. The Concordia Society of Janesville, although composed of Germans, makes no distinction of nationality when called upon. I have personal knowledge of many charities and subscriptions to local enterprises, which have been freely given by the society. This disposition has kept the finances from growing very large, and do not think to-day they are able to buy any high school bonds or other like securities, but are ready at all times to assist any worthy cause that may be brought to their notice. The citizens of Janesville, of German nationality, should be commended for their push and enterprise. Within my recollection there was no regular German church in Janesville, service being held in a school room with no regularly ordained minister. Today there are two churches, St. Paul's and St. John's, both I believe in good financial condition and growing. Connected with these churches are day schools, supported entirely by the communicants. In making inquiries concerning these German schools, I am informed by a very worthy German, one who has no family and whose salary is not large, but is I believe a strong supporter of both church and school, that the St. Paul's church has a membership of about 130, and the school has 115 or more scholars. English is taught three or four hours each day. These schools neither ask nor expect any financial assistance from state, county or city. It is a matter of wonder to me, the progress made by our German population. It is evident that there is a strong feeling that their children shall be taught according to German customs. Yet they do not lose sight of the fact that English is a necessity and as such it receives their share of study in their schools. These churches and schools are maintained by a class of people who are composed very largely of workmen who have no inheritance except their muscle and energy. At the east side, or St. John's church and school, the information given me is substantially the same as the one spoken of. My home is very near the east side or St. John's German church, and my observations show me a wonderful increase in patronage. I speak of this with considerable pride.

"America will do well to encourage these people. There is lots of room for them. But it would also be well if this country would shut their gates to many that are coming. America is overrun with a foreign element that seems to have an aim in causing dissension and strife, that are drones and not law abiding. These people are a useless commodity perhaps at home, but are received here almost with open arms, soon to receive the rights of citizenship on equal terms with foreigners who come here to better their condition in an honest and upright manner."

Mayor Thoroughgood closed with praise of the new quartette which the Concordia Society had secured, and predicted for the society greater prosperity than ever.

Other numbers which delighted the audience were a duet by Misses Johanna and Selma Pabst with zither accompaniment by Miss Lottie Pabst; zither solo by Miss Lottie Pabst; piano duet, by Misses Hedwig and Emma Kueff; song by the Liederkrauz; selection by Smith's orchestra, "Pretty as a Picture," and a song by the Concordia. Then the floor was cleared for the dance. Johnny Smith's good men and true never made such music as they did for those waltzes and quadrilles. Three o'clock found the dancers far from willing to say good night and they dispersed with reluctance. For their enjoyment they had to thank a committee of arrangements consisting of three good men—John M. Kneff, August Bauman and L. F. Knipp.

John Falter, Peter Lennart, Herman Buchholz, George Crouse and John Zamow comprised the reception committee, while Charles W. Wisch, C. E. Herman, Fred Kothman and William Rehfeld had charge of the floor.

EATON NOT AFRAID OF THE TRUSTEES.

LAWRENCE FEDERATION AND UNIVERSITY.

Support For the Former Janesville Pastor—He Doesn't Want the Presidency, He Says, and Thinks Dr. Trevor Would Fill the Position Very Acceptably.

Some Lawrence university trustees are much stirred up over the withdrawal of the invitation to the Rev. Dr. Eaton to deliver the baccalaureate sermon at Lawrence simply because of his paper before the Methodist ministers which led to the passage of the resolution respectfully calling the attention of the trustees of Lawrence to the federated educational plan.

Dr. Eaton stated to a reporter yesterday afternoon that he did not care anything about preaching the sermon and he did not care to feel like criticizing the trustees or Acting President Underwood. He thought however that the action was hasty. The trustees of Lawrence or at least a few of them, Mr. Eaton said, seemed to be clerly mistaken in regard to the stand of the Milwaukee Methodist ministers. It was not the intention to antagonize Lawrence in the least, he said, or do anything which would reflect upon Lawrence. Whether or not the trustees took action on the resolution commending to their attention the federal educational plan, Dr. Eaton said, that dormitories would undoubtedly be erected at Madison for the accommodation of the religious and social welfare of students of the Methodist denomination.

Dr. Eaton Not a Candidate

"I never considered myself a candidate for the presidency of Lawrence," said Dr. Eaton. "I do not consider myself fitted for the position. What has been said of me has been said of my friends, but I myself have not even considered the matter, and it had not been brought to my attention."

Regarding the candidacy of the Rev. Mr. Trevor of Fond du Lac, Dr. Eaton thought that the university would be well cared for under his supervision. Mr. Trevor, Dr. Eaton said, was well fitted for the position, having had some experience at Lawrence, and afterwards having taken post graduate courses at Oxford and in German colleges.

Several of the trustees endorse Dr. Eaton's position in federation and intend to make trouble over the withdrawal of the baccalaureate invitation.

MEETING IN MILTON JUNCTION.

Latter Day Saints Get No Church—Blind Pigs Said to Flourish.

MILTON JUNCTION, June 9—The meetings held under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association at this place Saturday and Sunday were full of interest and drew crowds to each meeting. Mr. Anderson, state secretary, was present and addressed the meeting Sunday night. The Beloit college quartette were present and assisted in the singing. It was an enjoyable time. Mr. Loomis, from the town of Troy, Walworth County, was in town Sunday. His son, one of the Beloit College students, addressed the meeting Sunday forenoon. His father had the pleasure of hearing his son. Both took dinner with Mrs. John Owen. Mr. Kline and Mr. Spoon of Janesville attended church here Sunday eve and assisted in the meeting.

It is said that sightless swine again flourish near the shore of Clear Lake. Will Varlone and family spent Sunday out of town with friends. E. Babcock, of Edgerton, was in town Monday. Henry Crandall and his daughter Addie are now nicely settled in their home on Madison street. Miss Gertrude Campbell, of New Auburn, Minn., took tea with her cousin, Mrs. E. D. Coon, Friday. Miss Bertie Gates, of Clinton Junction, is visiting her brother, Will Gates. Herbert Coon and wife, of Janesville, called on relatives here Sunday. Mrs. M. J. Clarke and niece Beulah started for New York Monday. Rev. G. W. Burdick has been appointed delegate to the Association of S. D. B. churches which convenes at Dodge Center, Minn., July 14. Mr. Dutton and two other gentlemen were in town Saturday trying to get a church in which to hold some meetings. They are Latter Day Saints. They got no church.

Elder Summers gave notice that he would preach about the "Latter Day Saints" two weeks from last Sunday night at the Methodist church. The elder does not seem to have any great love for those people. Mr. Levy, the jeweler, is now settled, and ready for business. You will find him on Vernal avenue, next door to the furniture store. Mrs. Kern has been entertaining company from near Darien for some time. Arthur McCafferty is building an addition to his house. Mrs. Irving Drake and Miss Lilly Shaffer, of Monroe, are visiting friends here. Ed. Butts, of Delavan, attended divine service here Sunday night. The family countenance of William Paul is again seen on our streets. Mr. Paul has been absent on a visit to his old home in bonny Scotland. Mrs. A. S. Maxon and daughter Mabel have gone to Missouri to visit friends. Dr. Kelly has a cousin, Carl Ostrander of Bancroft, Ia., stopping with him part of the summer. We understand the young man goes to Chicago to take treatment each week. He is a cripple.

School Flag Raising at Newark Center. A flag raising was held at Newark Center Saturday, June 2. A handsome flag was unfurled to the breeze at the top of a fifty-five foot staff. The programme was as follows: Raising of the flag by members of G. A. R. Post of Beloit; prayer by Superintendent Ross, of the school; stirring and patriotic addresses by Superintendent Ross and F. P. Starr of Afton and a patriotic and pleasing response by Commander T. T. Northrop of Beloit post. The program was followed by dinner. Much credit is due Miss Rena Smith, the teacher, for her untiring efforts in making the programme a success. The attendance was large and patriotism reigned supreme.

WHAT AL. G. FIELD HAS DONE

Numerous Features of American Minstrelsy that He Originated.

Six years ago Al. G. Field originated the idea of dressing all people in his parade alike—hats, overcoats, etc. Since then every minstrel manager in America has adopted this idea. Three years ago Al. G. Field first presented the military encampment first part. Since then every minstrel manager in this country excepting Primrose & West have advertised, and two have actually produced, military first parts. Two years ago Al. G. Field bought and equipped the first train of palace cars ever used by any minstrel company. No other minstrel manager has as yet imitated this move, although several have announced their intentions to do so. The company will appear at Myers' opera house Friday, June 8.

FINE TOBACCO LAND IN ROCK.

Ewight Loomis Says the Lightest Soils Are the Best For the Weed

Dwight Loomis, the well known Connecticut tobacco expert, is much pleased to learn that Rock county farmers are trying the Pinney fertilizer. He tells A. L. Fisher:

"There is no reason why you cannot raise just as good tobacco as we can in the Connecticut River Valley, providing that you use your lightest soils and substitute fertilizer for stable manure. I like the light soils in the vicinity of Orfordville and Footville best and consider them far ahead of Viroqua lands. Tobacco from the latter I am afraid of after the sweat."

TALK AS YOU WOULD TO A BUYER

Store Keepers Who Advertise Should Remember This Point.

Retail advertisers have a tendency to generalize in their advertising. This should not be done; the public wants to know something definite regarding the goods advertised. Ads should be made to resemble, as closely as possible, the arguments that the merchant would use in his store.

NO TOBACCO AT THE GROVE.

Acresage This Year Will Be One-Tenth That of 1893.

EMERALD GROVE, June 5—William Smith, of Janesville, was the orator of the day May 30. A large audience attended Memorial day exercises. After the address, the graves of our honored dead were covered with wreaths of flowers. The society wish to acknowledge the liberal donations of flowers contributed, for while they tender thanks, also good work done by the several committees. No tobacco has been set in this vicinity yet. Plants are small and the acresage will be about one-tenth of last year's. Corn is growing very slowly, but grain and grass make up for the backwardness of other crops. Children's day services will be observed at the Congregational church on next Sunday. An interesting programme is arranged. Many of our citizens attended services at "Rocky Dell," last Sunday afternoon. James Plantz is doing some barn building on his premises two miles south of here. At a meeting this week it will be decided whether we will celebrate the glorious Fourth or not. There will be an ice cream and cake social at the residence of Mr. Thomas Barlass Thursday evening June 7, to which everybody is most cordially invited. If stormy that evening it will take place the following evening.

Z. Gilson was attacked Saturday with convulsions and vomiting of a very dangerous character. Dr. Leib, of this place, has been in almost constant attendance at the bedside since the first. Drs. Loomis and Sutherland of Janesville, were also called. It was agreed to continue Dr. Leib's treatment. The patient is now recovering. Gillies & Jones are putting a new roof on their store building. The Junior Christian Endeavor held a social at the Codgregational church and on the grounds last Friday afternoon. About thirty-five boys and girls spent a few hours at their first social very pleasantly. Ice cream was furnished by the ladies.

TAX STRIKES HOME IN SEVERAL LODGES.

THE "INCOME" CLAUSE AND FRATERNAL INSURANCE.

Mutual Benefit Organization Will be Called Upon Under the Wilson Bill to Pay a Share of Their Contributions to the Meeting of a Democratic Deficit in Washington.

Janesville people have a fresh suggestion of the iniquities of the Wilson tariff bill in the petitions put in circulation here today. The "income tax" section is the part shown up. At first this tax was opposed by capitalists only, but as the true character of the measure became known, general opposition is shown.

Twelve hundred Janesville people will feel its weight. The tax affects all fraternal and beneficiary orders along with individuals whose incomes exceed the minimum amount named in the bill.

Organizations paying sick, accident, death or other benefits to members in sickness and distress to their families in case of death, are included in this "income tax" measure. It is claimed that there are over forty-four different orders. These orders, statistics show, paid over $35,000,000 last year, and the membership is placed at over two millions.

It would affect nearly all the societies having lodges here, as most of these embody the fraternal insurance feature in some form and therefore would be liable to contribute. It is safe to say that there are at least twelve hundred people in Janesville who belong to societies paying this class of benefits, and all these would pay tribute under the income tax, although societies to which they belong are strictly benevolent and co-operative, and are not operated for profit or gain to stockholders or officers.

The money handled is paid in sums of five to twenty-five dollars a week in case of sickness or disability, and from $500 to $5,000 to the family in case of death. It represents no surplus earnings, but simply protection, in case of sickness, accident or death. It should be exempt from taxation, as a tax would simply be an additional burden upon the members.

Petitions are being signed by the societies and lodges thus affected, asking the senate to exempt these fraternal bodies from the "income tax" provisions.

OLDEST DIVER IN AMERICA.

Abram Onderdonk and His Many Tales of Submarine Adventure.

For thirty-seven of his 59 years Abram Onderdonk has been a submarine diver and is now the oldest man in America pursuing that vocation. For many years "Abe," as he is called by his friends, has lived on Staten island, N. Y., but has explored the hulls of sunken ships in all parts of the world. He has seen almost every kind of creature that lives in either fresh or salt water, and has faced every danger which is incident to the life of a diver. In some places the most unwelcome sight is a sword fish, whose short, bony weapon protruding from its head is as strong almost as steel. Once he was seized by an octopus and on signaling to those above was drawn to the surface still clasped in the embrace of the monster. That was in New Zealand. On another occasion while examining a passenger ship sunk off the California coast he was horrified to find half a dozen bodies in the steerage, all in an upright position and swollen to several times their natural size. He found nine men and two women in the wreck of a steamer sunk in the Caribbean sea. One of the women was lying on a bed, clutching the slat. Onderdonk loosened her hold and the body at once floated into an erect position for a moment but immediately rolled over toward him. The dead woman's eyes were opened and the sight so unnerved him that he nearly fainted. He has often, when exploring particularly dark cabins, bumped into bodies, and though experiences of this kind tend to blunt the shock, they never become a matter of unconcern. Nowadays divers carry submarine electric lamps, which greatly facilitate their work. At the same time these aids have their disadvantage in attracting vast shoals of fish, which occasionally become an absolute hindrance.

SHE WAS UNSCRUPULOUS.

But by Being so Earned a Big Fee From a Political Lobby.

The methods of the lobby change. They become more intricate and refined. But it cannot be said that they improve from the moral point of view. Advance information was wanted badly not long ago of an expected decision of the supreme court. It is a matter of much pride as well as of common honesty on the part of the court to keep secret the decisions until they are delivered in open court. But the lobby seldom fails when it wants something very much. It obtained the carefully guarded decision, and by a scheme which illustrates well how utterly unscrupulous it still is to accomplish its ends. The decision books, of which each justice has one, are closed with locks. They are kept at the justices' houses.

The lobby employed a lady—one who passed as such in Washington society. This person was on terms of intimacy with the family of a member of the court. Under instructions of the lobby she went to the house of the justice on Sunday, at an hour when the family was at church. The servants knew her. They admitted her. She made some pretext, and was allowed to go to the library. There in a drawer she found the decision book and the key of the lock. She copied from the decision what the lobby wanted to know and got out of the house without exciting any suspicion on the part of the servants. The fore-knowledge was used. It was made the basis of a stock speculation. The profits were large, presumably, for the lobby passed to the woman a fee of $5,000, as the story is told.

Forced to Insure.

In Germany there is a law of compulsory insurance against old age and infirmity. Persons of both sexes who are over 16 years of age and who are employed in all industrial occupations are compelled to become thus insured. Exemption is only granted to those persons who work merely for their board or those who are temporarily employed. The pension for old age varies from about $25 to $50 a year, and is granted to every insured person who has completed his seventieth year, irrespective of his ability to earn a livelihood, provided he does not already draw a pension for infirmity. The infirmity pension varies from $27 to over $130, and is given irrespective of age to persons who are permanently incapacitated from earning a living. In order to establish a claim to a pension, contributions, regulated by the amount of earnings, must be paid for a prescribed period.

The Yellow Glow of the Horizon.

Points on the sky by the setting sun, is beautiful. Not so the yellow glow of a face tinged with bile. And oh! the unspeakable discomfort that bile in the wrong place produces. Twinges in the right side and under the right shoulder blade, nausea, vertigo, sick headache, constipation, faulty digestion. Not in an instant can the symptoms of biliousness be dispelled, but persistence in the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will eradicate them, restore digestion and regularity of the bowels, and counteract tendencies to more aggravated complaints, which an interruption of these functions begets. Rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, neuralgia, and inability to sleep, are also remedied by the gentle, preventative and restorative of nerve force and tranquillity. As an antidote to the poison of malaria, it is unfailing and prompt. A wineglassful three times a day.

A prominent Houston journalist recently applied for the fifth or sixth time to a wealthy friend for a temporary loan.

"Don't you know," was the reply, "that it is very painful to be always lending money?"

"No, I didn't know that," replied the journalist; "I never did anything of the kind in my life, but if you will let me have twenty dollars, I'll lend some feller a nickel just to see if what you say is so."—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

A WOMAN'S LIFE.

SOME THINGS MEN DON'T CONSIDER

Thousands of Women Suffer Daily for Years without Complaining.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Men cannot know the sensibilities hidden in the delicate organisms of women.

Thousands suffer without knowing why, and die the death daily for want of knowledge that relief is so close at hand.

Lydia E. Pinkham will forever stand highest in the love of suffering women.

Because she discovered the cause of woman's weakness and suffering, and found the means to remove it.

Diseases of the Uterus and ovarian troubles are most universal; you can see their ravages in pale faces; it is indicated by halting steps, dizziness, faintness, irritability, melancholy, extreme lassitude, nervousness, sleeplessness, and disturbances of the stomach.

You will hear your friends speak of the dreadful "backache," the crushing sense of "bearing down."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for twenty years has saved women from all this. Hear this woman speak:—

"No man ever suffered a single pang like unto woman."

Women, therefore, gladly turn to a woman for sympathy, counsel, and help in their peculiar troubles.

Lydia E. Pinkham deserves the confidences showered upon her by thousands. Her Vegetable Compound has done more for women than any other remedy.

"The great cause of woman's misery is in her womb. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound goes direct to the source of trouble, drives out disease, and cures backache, fainting, despondency, bloating, ovarian troubles, and leucorrhoea.

"I would have been in my grave if I had not taken Mrs. Pinkham's medicines."

GEN. GREENE.

DOWN WITH THE "ARMIES"
 Such a parcel of "Coxeyites" as passed through Janesville a day or two ago are parasites upon the liberality of the industrious poor. They are levying contributions, not upon the rich, for the rich give little to such enterprises, but upon the hard-working poor, whose sympathies are easily moved, and who are always ready to share their small means with those whom they believe to be in need. The beggars of every city live upon what they get from the tenements of the humble, not from what they get from the palaces of the rich, and hence it is that organized vagrancy of the country, a section of which so lately passed through this city, is able to draw sustenance from a class who can ill afford to give it, rather than from a class who could give it without missing it. This makes the offense of these sham "workingmen" all the greater and more despicable, and makes it still more the duty of honest men everywhere to frown upon them and despise them.

TOO MUCH CONGRESS.

The Baltimore Sun suggests that congress should be paid by the piece. The present way of wasting time is simply ruinous to business. The people need legislation and get obstruction. It is therefore proposed to pay a congressman $5,000 if a session ends in three months, $4,000 if it extends to four months, and nothing at all if six months are exceeded. The idea may seem queer at first glance, but it is perfectly sound, and rests on the same solid basis as the biennial meeting of state legislatures. The business interests of the country demand a reasonable stability. They ask for action and are getting indefinite delay and confusion worse confounded.

A lot of wish-washy people wrung their hands when Walter Q. Gresham left the republican party, and proclaimed him the ablest jurist America had ever seen. For their benefit we would remark that the United States supreme court's last reversal of a decision rendered by Secretary Gresham when he was a United States judge, makes nine that have thus been dealt with since he "went back" on himself politically.

It surprises the St. Louis Globe Democrat to learn how many democratic senators called upon Mr. Havemeyer when he was in Washington for the express purpose of not saying anything to him about the sugar duty.

Governor Altgeld and his demagogue speeches have done one good thing. They have insured against any more democratic administrations in Illinois during the next twenty years.

The denial of charges of corruption by the stock-speculating senators would be much more satisfactory if it were possible to think them capable of pleading guilty in any event.

The quantity of work that the various "industrial armies" have marched away from would have kept them employed for an ordinary lifetime.

The sugar trust has a stronger hold upon the democratic party than anything has had since the days when the slave power used to control it.

COXEY ARMY IN EVANSVILLE.

Invasion Reported Graphically By Editor Libby of the Tribune.

Forty Coxeyites visited Evansville and Editor Libby of the Tribune pleads for them as follows:

"All wore badges designating their organization and appeared to be honest laborers passably well dressed in ordinary laborers suits and clean, they nearly asked for provisions which was amply provided them, they taking their departure the same evening after waiting for a part of their comrades who had been left at Oregon by some oversight of their leader, who gave his name as Charles Clark, a tin-smith by trade, very well informed. Mr. Elmer Meixell apparently the second in command, said that his home was in Louisville, Penn., that they were all willing to work at anything that might be provided, but had utterly failed to procure any, that one of their principal objects in banding together was to see if they could not have some influence with their votes and otherwise to stop the foreign immigration of laborers at least until our own laborers were employed, also the importation of such foreign manufactured goods as were manufactured in this country to the injury of the laboring of this country, also that congress enact such laws as will give our laborers classes equal opportunities with the rich, to gain their living and many other equally as sensible arguments were produced in their behalf. Employees are out of employment and having no means to buy, their provisions they are obliged to beg, therefore there is no market for the farmers produce, provisions, they must give them away, and so on we may trace from one to the other as we might trace a dollar or five when kept in circulation, but now laying idle for the want of a business starter."

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES

A Mormon Missionary.

Fourteen Mormon missionaries sailed recently from San Francisco to preach in Australia, New Zealand, Samoa and the Hawaiian Islands. The oldest of them is 27 years of age, and the youngest, R. L. Bird, but little past 21. Young Bird, in an interview, spoke with unusual frankness of his mission. "The Mormon church," said Mr. Bird, "sends out about 200 missionaries each year. These are distributed over every part of the globe. Young men are usually selected for this work, their standing in the church and their ability to bear the expense of a three years' mission being the only qualifications necessary. We do not teach polygamy. It is still practiced by some, but not by the advice of the church."

TRAGEDY AT SPRINGFIELD.

Oscar F. Hodgins Kills Mrs. Mollie Jones and Himself.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 6.—This city was the scene of a shocking murder and suicide at noon yesterday. A woman known as Mrs. Mollie Jones occupied apartments above a business house on North Fifth street. She was said to be a widow and was the mother of two children, a boy aged 6 and a girl aged 4 years. At the hour mentioned a man named Oscar P. Hodgins, who recently lived at Pleasant Plains, in this county, fired five shots from a revolver into her body and then shot himself through the heart. In a few minutes both were dead. It is not known yet what relations of the man and woman were. He left a badly written note saying: "This should be the fate of all home-wrecking women."

SAY SAWYER WAS WEALTHY.

Monmouth, Maine, Farmer Kept Much Money in His House.

LEWISTON, Maine, June 6.—It has been discovered that Joseph A. Sawyer, the Monmouth farmer who was so mysteriously murdered two weeks ago, had at the time of his death about $12,000 in cash and notes secreted in various places about his house. It was found by the heirs hidden away in kegs, old stockings and closets. The detection of the murderer seems as far off as ever. The offer of $1,000 reward by the town and heirs has stimulated effort, but nothing has been discovered.

NELSON A SUCCESS AT THIEF CATCHING.

LIVERYMAN BRINGS A CROOK FROM LA CROSSE.

F. M. McConnell Refused to Pay For the Use of a Rig, so the Determined Janesville Man Handcuffed Him and Hurried Him to the Train.

Anyone who beats John M. Nelson out of $60 will wear handcuffs. This is an established fact. F. M. McConnell knows it. He had the handcuffs on and John M. had the key in his pocket.

"Twas thusly—McConnell was the agent for a school chart and was working Rock county. He hired a rig of the Nelson Brothers and used it until the bill amounted to $60. Then he desired to seek new fields and drove to Edgerton where he abandoned the team. After a good deal of hard work the team was located and recovered. At the same time McConnell owed Archie Galbraith, of the Galbraith hotel, $10 for board. The other day he wrote Mr. Galbraith from La Crosse that he would be down in a few days and pay up. Mr. Galbraith told Mr. Nelson.

Did Mr. Nelson wait for him to come? Not enough to amount to anything.

He just boarded the first train for La Crosse, and when he got there he hunted McConnell up, but the latter had no money and could not settle.

"Then you'll have to come back with me," said Mr. Nelson, who hid himself away to the police station and borrowed a pair of full sized nickel plated hand cuffs. These ornaments graced Mr. McConnell's wrists when he arrived in Janesville on the 6:25 train in charge of Mr. Nelson, and now things look black for him.

NO ONE BLAMED FOR HIS DEATH Coroner's Jury In the Cowan Case Finds that Trainmen Were Not Negligent.

The jury, in Coroner M. P. Richardson's inquest over the remains of Charles J. Cowan, killed yesterday morning north of St. Mary's avenue, by being struck by a locomotive on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, did not consume much time in their investigation this morning. Engineer Lewis and Fireman Slightam, both of whom were on the locomotive, testified to the facts. The engine struck the unfortunate man, according to their testimony, just before reaching the city limits. The danger signal was given by sounding the locomotive whistle, but Cowan did not pay attention, and the train was too close to be stopped. The jury attached no blame to any one.

CORN GROWS VERY SLOWLY Cold Weather Has Held It Back and Has Hurt Grass.

The weather of the past week has been generally favorable to small grain, and rye and winter wheat are heading out in many fields. Corn, however, has made little growth, the weather being too cold, except in northern and northwestern counties, where more favorable reports are given. The cultivator is running in many parts and with a few days of warm bright weather corn would change its yellow tinge for a brilliant green and make rapid growth. The present retarding weather may, nevertheless, prove beneficial for frost still seems probable, in fact, is sure to visit the state again tonight. The damage from the severe frost of the first of last week, as heretofore reported, was confined to early corn, early potatoes, and garden truck and small fruit, the first setting of strawberries being killed and blueberries damaged. Apples suffered some in central counties, for the temperature fell to or below freezing in all parts. Cranberries were saved on the cultivated marshes by flooding and are now reported growing finely.

The heavy rains of May packed the soil in most counties and some damage has resulted. Rain is again needed, as the past week has been dry, although the present cool weather will allow of a long continuation of dryness without material harm.

Late potatoes are still being planted with probably the largest acreage in many years. Bugs are numerous and are doing damage, but the frosty weather has no doubt killed large numbers of them.

Clover is in blossom and promises well. Pastures are generally excellent and dairy interests are running at full capacity. Hay has lost part of its large promise of two weeks ago, but will still make a large crop with favorable weather.

STREATOR, Ill., June 6.—While E. O. Whitmore and his brother were closing their store Monday night at Ransom, a small station twelve miles north of here, on the Santa Fe, two men entered the place with drawn revolvers and told them to hold up their hands. A fight ensued and Whitmore was killed. Then the men ran to where they had a horse and buggy and escaped in the darkness. A posse of citizens at once started in pursuit, but so far the murderers have escaped capture. Mr. Whitmore was about 65 years old and leaves a widow and several children. He was one of the oldest settlers of the county. It is said that two men answering the description of the murderers have been arrested at Odell, a station on the Alton.

PRaise THE SHAW FOR MANY MERITS.

FAMOUS PIANISTS PRAISE THE GAZETTE PRIZE.

Everybody Who Has Examined the Instrument at S. C. Burnham & Co's Says the Things Said in Its Favor Were Justified—Conditions of the Contest.

What is thought of the Shaw piano by pianists, vocalists and teachers. This is not hard to find out.

When The Gazette chose an instrument it picked out the best to be had. The girl who wins this instrument may well rejoice. Here are a few statements published in St. Paul papers by those who have used the Shaw:

OSCAR L. LIENAU, tenor singer and teacher of the voice writes:

ST. PAUL, MINN., AUG. 2, 1892. GENTLEMEN: I am extremely pleased with the Shaw Piano, which I purchased of you. I have used it for some months and consider it a superior instrument. Its clear full tone and elastic touch is a delight not only to myself, but to my many friends. Its sweet singing quality being especially noticeable, and I shall be pleased to recommend it to my pupils, etc., I am, yours respectfully, OSCAR L. LIENAU.

Frederick Leavitt, the expert piano tuner:

ST. PAUL, MINN., MAY 1, 1892. GENTLEMEN: As compared with other first class instruments, the Shaw piano has the charming characteristics of each—all in one. Not a harsh or metallic tone, stays in tune. Such is my admiration for the piano that I would not trade, "even up" for any upright made. My own Shaw is not required; any attention during the past year and is in almost perfect tune now. Yours respectfully, FRED. LEAVITT.

Professor William Manner, organist at the Cathedral and leader of the German Mannerchor Singing society says:

ST. PAUL, MINN., MAY 6, 1892. I admire the Shaw Piano very much. Its construction is most excellent, the tone is round, rich and mellow, and altogether I consider it one of the very best pianos made today in this country. I can cheerfully recommend them. Respectfully yours, W. MANNER.

Those who wish to learn for themselves the quality of piano offered by the Gazette are urged to visit S. C. Burnham & Co's store. Several patterns of the Shaw are there shown. These instruments rank in the markets of the country just as Chickering, Steinways and Knabes, the four occupying first place. Everybody who has seen the Gazette piano is enthusiastic in its praise. It has a pure ringing tone, and its action is very fine. These qualities are what would be expected of a Shaw piano and The Gazette made no mistake in choosing that instrument.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

PAYING FOR LUXURIES.

The Doctor's Sliding Scale of Fees Provided for Salmon Bones.

Some time ago a certain wealthy gentleman, well known for his extreme stinginess, drove up hurriedly to the door of the celebrated Dr. S., of Manchester. He was in a state of acute discomfort and fear from the simple fact that at the moment a piece of fishbone was sticking somewhere in the region of his throat. Dr. S., however, speedily removed the dangerous obstacle and the gentleman breathed freely. "Thank you, doctor!" he exclaimed, much relieved. "I swear I will never eat salmon again—never! And with what ease you removed it—a mere minute's operation, was it not? How much—a what is your fee?" "Half a guinea," replied Dr. S.—"Half a guinea?" exclaimed the gentleman, "for half a minute's work! Impossible!" "But, consider," said Dr. S., "a salmon bone!" "What has that got to do with it?" "Oh, a great deal," replied Dr. S.—"Had it been halibut or fresh haddock I should have charged less—perhaps five shillings; codfish or eels, two and sixpence would have been ample payment; mackerel, two shillings, while red herring I might even have removed free of charge, but salmon at this time of the year—well, really, Mr. B., one has to pay for these luxuries."

Didn't Need It.

He was an Englishman with a title, and he was a gentleman in all the term implies. He was a busy man, however, and until he came to America society had seen little of him. When he came to New York he was grabbed at by the best society of that town and his life almost made a burden to him.

"Ah," exclaimed a fashionable woman to whom he had said something of his trials, "you don't like this? You astonish me."

"I am scarcely accustomed to it, madam," he said apologetically.

"And you don't cultivate society? All the people you meet here do, and you should."

"It doesn't need cultivation where I live," he explained, and the explanation went.

The Thief's Scruples.

A friend of Landseer's asked him to paint his dog for him, but on the day fixed the animal was found to have been stolen. The artist promised to recover it if possible, and went to a well-known dog-stealer, telling him to let him have it at once, no questions asked. The man said he could not find it under a fortnight, and, at the end of that time, appeared with it. "You see," he said, "I did steal the dawg, but I sold it to such a trump or a hold lady for much less howdacious price, I thought I must let 'ave the benefit of it for a fortnight."

TOO MUCH WIND

Is being wasted by our competitors, who lead in everything (Fairy tales not excepted) as to the immense amount of business that they are doing—on paper mostly—by selling their wares less than cost. Merchandise that must be sold for less than the cost to manufacture must be exceeding poor or of such an antique date that any price is gain. We do not have that kind of goods in our place. We are making up many suits—buy all of the time and making some profit—the reason is that our customers get honest value for their money—any who have ever dealt with us can verify the above.

IN HATS

We always were in advance on new things—selling so many keeps our stock bright and clean. If we would let the old timers accumulate we would gladly take 50 cents on the dollar for them. Our new straws are in and are charming. Some beauties at 50 cents. One price to all and everything marked in plain English figures.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY

ALMOST TOO EXUBERANT.

Judith Chollet Thinks Hats and Bonnets Are Battered Beyond Reason.

The floral decorations used on hats this year are almost too exuberant in both quantity and variety. Three or four different kinds of flowers are clustered together on one hat, and unless the grouping is very skillfully done the effect is not pleasing. The little auriculas in various colors are much used, and these compact little bunches are interspersed with slender sprays of other varieties of blossoms, giving a result which is unsatisfactory to the eye, however up to date it may be. Jetted tips are a prettier trimming, although they are of short lived beauty, as the glittering frost drops of very quickly and leaves the feathers in a too evidently dismantled condition.

All headgear intended for women's wear seems to be of an ephemeral character, meant only for the quietest of sunny days. The severe simplicity and ugliness of a man's hats permit him to appear at an equal advantage in all weathers, but women en, unless they adopt masculine styles, find it difficult to keep from looking more or less bedraggled in times of bad weather. To women who have no occasion to go out of doors except on bright days this is of no consequence, but to the many others who do go out it is a great annoyance to experience the facts that velvet and ribbon are spotted by rain, lace wiles and ostrich feathers look as if they were plucked from a wet hen. There is a certain degree of consolation in knowing that a man, in spite of his superiority in convenience of costume, undergoes an exactly similar vexation when his new silk hat is exposed to an unexpected shower.

A favorite trimming for lace hats is a large garland of roses or perhaps mere buds and foliage. This includes several sprays besides three or four long rubber stems set with thorns and tiny buds or leaflets. A transparent hat thus decorated needs no other garniture. One or two of the sprays are allowed to stand erect, while the rest are laid along the brim and round the crown, one being permitted to drop upon the hair.

The sketch given is of a large hat of fancy straw of the natural color. The brim is covered with white lace, which drops over the edge. In front is a cluster of four black tips, held together by a tight bunch of pink roses. A little to the right of the back are three full blown pink roses.

JUDITH CHOLLET.

WHY SHOULD PARIS DICTATE?

Judith Chollet Urges Americans to Originate Their Own Fashions.

Parisian authorities tell us that moire in both plain and fancy varieties was never so much used as at present, and that black and white are still a favorite combination. By the by, why must we in America depend so absolutely on the dictum of people at the other side of the world in regard to costume? Why do we not have our own authorities on dress and invent our own styles rather than appear in European fashions which have begun to be stale there before they have gained a hold here? As it is, we look to England for our tailor made modes and get all the rest from Paris, with a little unacknowledged assistance from Vienna. Perhaps our slavishness in this respect accounts in a measure for the opinion entertained of us by the average untraveled European, who fancies claims that we never saw gas or any other modern improvement, and that the majority of the citizens of New York are red men with scalp at their belts. It must be a great disillusionment to these same Europeans when they do travel to this country to find that railroads and "train cars" are quite matters of course, and that gold nuggets are not to be picked up in the streets by every comer, despite the vaunted wealth of the land. When they observe American women so consumed with eagerness to adopt foreign fashions, however, they are no doubt consoled by the conviction that imported modes are the only alternative to the aboriginal buckskins and blankets.

There is not much prospect that the eastern states will have push enough to evolve essentially American costumes, but the west is virgin soil in which seeds of new ideas readily germinate, and there perhaps will be produced the unique flower of characteristic dress which shall be cosmopolitan enough to embrace the beauties of the costumes of all countries and national enough to include the disadvantages of none.

A sketch is given of a pretty neck garniture of wide black moire ribbon and spangled black lace. The ribbon forms the heading of a full bertha of the lace, and a tight wrinkled collar of moire surround the neck. The ribbon is brought down to a point in front where the bertha fastens under a large moire bow.

A WILD WIERD SCENE.

Much has been written of the Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, and yet the stories of its picturesque beauty, its enchanting domes and rock-strewn avenues have been but half told. But few there are who are acquainted with the interior. Among other sights of interest which there abound is a village of rude huts built in the years gone by. These were erected by a colony of consumptives, who thought that the even temperature (60 degrees Fahrenheit) of the cave would cure their disease. The damp air however, proved fatal and hastened the death of all. Earlier in years had they taken Dr. McClesney's Catarrh Cure, there is no doubt they would have lived to a ripe old age. $200 reward for any disease of the nose, throat and lungs which this remedy will not cure. Don't experiment with inferior remedies. For sale by all druggists.

NOTES ON RECENT PUBLICATIONS.

Current History for the 1st quarter of 1894 more than sustains the past reputation of this remarkable work as a comprehensive, able, and interesting resume of the world's doings. It contains 365 pages of reading matter, which convey the reader on a flying tip around the world, giving him in clear perspective a birds-eye view of the important events of the day in all civilized countries, stopping long enough at points to enable him to get a thorough understanding of all the salient questions, and leaving him with the conviction that he has been brought into closer touch than ever before with the great life of the world, and is better equipped to read even his daily paper and to form an intelligent estimate on the important topics on which every live citizen should be well posted.

Review of Reviews.

The department of "New Books" in the June Review of Reviews is especially strong, containing a London letter full of interesting chat about the literature of the month, together with a review of the work soon to be published by Professor Richard T. Ely, the well-known professor of economics in the University of Wisconsin, on "Socialism and Social Reform." The reviewer commends the book for its sane and well thought out conclusions, as well as for the genuinely American spirit of the author. The completion of this work by Dr. Ely will doubtless be news to many of our readers. The University of Wisconsin is to be congratulated on the substantial contributions to the best literature of the day in various departments.

Plymouth Rock to McKinley.

The famous document entitled "American Tariffs from Plymouth Rock to McKinley" (96 pages), published by the American Protective Tariff League, has just been revised and re-issued. It should be in the hands of every person who wishes complete and reliable information upon the tariff. Sent to any address for ten cents. Address, Wilbur F. Wake-man, General Secretary, No. 135 West 23d street, New York.

The Season For June.

The Season for June is just received, and with the month of roses come the pretty designs suitable to wear for every occasion—carriage robes, evening, home, morning and promenade costume. It also contains a great many pretty designs for children. On plate 1049 are ten figures, giving the newest designs for dressing the hair, and many exquisite designs in millinery, hats and bonnets, for both ladies and children.

Thomas a Becket's Chasuble.

The chasuble of Thomas a Becket was nearly the cause of a duel in France recently. The circumstances surrounding the affair are curious enough in themselves. The martyred archbishop is particularly revered as a saint at Sens, his chasuble being kept as a relic in the cathedral. One of the cathedral priests cut off a fragment to send to a neighboring shrine, and this desecration brought down tremendous abuse on the priest from the anti-Semitic paper, Libre Parole. The insulted priest's brother (an officer in the army) rushed off to challenge the writer, and it was only by friendly mediation that a serious duel was prevented.
